Meredith Vows March Return Despite Blast

BULLETIN

HERNANDO, Miss (AP) — Mississippi authorities today formally charged Aubrey James Norvell, a white man from Memphis, with "assault and battery with intent to kill and murder James Meredith."

Ross Franks, De Soto County prosecutor, told newsmen waiting outside the jail here that Norvell, 41, an unemployed hardware contractor, would be taken before a justice of the peace for arraignment.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James H. Meredith, whose civil rights march through Mississippi was stopped by a sniper, vowed today that "I shall return and we shall arrive" in Jackson.

The Negro who was the first known member of his race to enter the University of Mississippi at nearby Oxford four years ago made the statement to newsmen through a Negro lawyer here. Meredith, recuperating from superficial shotgun wounds, did not actually meet with newsmen.

Dick Gregory, the Negro comedian who arrived from Chicago early today to take up where Meredith left off when he was felled Monday near Hernando, Miss., visited the news conference briefly — but said nothing.

Hit In Back

Meredith, 33, a key figure in the violent annals of Mississippi's civil rights movement, was cut down by a man with a shotgun Monday.

A white man was arrested immediately after the shooting.

Meredith was taken to a hospital in Memphis, about 25 miles north of Hernando. His condition was listed as good. He was hit in the back and in the legs with birdshot.

The shooting stirred sharp reaction. President Johnson described it as an "awful act of violence." There were angry speeches on Harlem street corners, but calls for calm and reason also were heard.

"We shouldn't allow ourselves to lose our heads," said black nationalist Edward Davis.

The shooting happened as the slender former Air Force sergeant, who cracked the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi in 1962, strode jauntily along U.S. 51, wearing a pith sunhelmet, green sports shirt and slacks.

House Slashes $6 Million From Education

LANSING (AP) — Budget - conscious legislators trimmed an estimated $6 million from Michigan's 1966 - 67 education costs early today.

The House Ways and Means Committee reported out the $227.1 million higher education measure—$1.5 million trimmer than when it went into committee.

The money trimmed would have gone to Community colleges.

The committee also changed language in the measure so that employer Social Security payments and employer contributions to school employe retirement funds would be changed to the federal government in the case of an employe who is paid in whole or part by the federal government.

The language change chops, $3 million to $4.5 million out of the over-all education budget.

Bill Reported

Rep. Charles Conrad, D - Jackson, champion of improved community college benefits, volunteered to reduce benefits to the local schools minutes before the higher education bill was reported out.

Anxious to hold state spending to less than $1 billion for the coming year, committee leaders jumped at the chance to rescind amendments Conrad himself had managed to tack on the bill in debate last week.

Admittedly upset over what he called the colleges' failure to speak up for what they needed, Conrad moved to strike from the bill a $300 - per - student minimum to each college and a guarantee of $25,000 to $100,000 to new districts struggling to get their first - year program started.

Since they have no students on which to base a state assistance formula, Conrad argued last week, these districts face extreme difficulties in getting off the ground.

U-M Increased

"I got no reaction whatever from these people after the committee action last week," he said. "These people come crawling in under the door and take whatever is given to them. They won't get anything unless they fight for it."

The committee increased the appropriation to the University of Michigan by $100,000 for cancer research.

But a move to restore language approving a Michigan State University law school failed. The language, calling for a $250,000 expenditure to get the school started, has been approved in the Senate. It was removed in the House committee last week.

The striking of the language, however, does not prevent the autonomous university from going ahead with a law school—especially since its total appropriation was not reduced.

The restoration move got eight committee votes—one short of passage. Conrad, who had declined to vote, then changed his "pass" to a "yes" vote, whereupon chairman Einar Erlandsen, D-Escanaba, changed his "yes" vote to "no"—leaving it one vote short.

Buddhist Militants Renew Ky Defiance

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Buddhist militants made new gestures of defiance against the government today after Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime excluded its chief Buddhist critics from the enlarged junta.

Three battalions of government troops arrived outside the northern Buddhist citadel of Hue, but their officers said they were en route to an operation against the Communists and would make no attempt to seize the city.

A report from Hue said the militant Buddhist leader Thich Tri Quang had instructed his followers to allow the troops to move through the city Wednesday morning by temporarily removing Buddhist household altars they had placed in the streets as a new form of anti-government protest.

Marines Camp

The 1,200 marines and paratroops pitched their tents six miles south of Hue tonight after moving out of Da Nang earlier in the day. Tri Quang's underground radio said Monday that Ky planned to send his soldiers into the city as he had done last month to seize Da Nang from Buddhist rebels.

In the war against the Communists, an attack by a company of North Vietnamese regulars on a U.S. artillery camp in the central highlands backfired badly. U.S. Air Force planes and troops of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division struck back at the 100 or so attackers and killed at least 77, an American spokesman said.

Just northwest of Saigon, elements of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division pounced on a Viet Cong supply area, killed perhaps two dozen Communist guards and captured 155 weapons buried in the swamp in plastic wrappers.

Break Lull

The two actions broke a lull of about a week in the ground fighting in South Viet Nam. Cloudy weather limited the air war against North Viet Nam to 55 multiplane missions Monday, but American pilots flew 524 combat sorties in the south and U.S. B52s hit a suspected Viet Cong concentration northwest of Saigon.

Amid the stir over the troop movement to Hue, a general strike disrupted business in Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon, while members of the Buddhist struggle movement in Da Nang, 50 miles to the south, also placed household altars in the streets and along the road to the strategic U.S.-Vietnamese airbase outside the city.

A Vietnamese air force plane swept low over Hue and called for the removal of the altars, while troops in Da Nang placed altars on the sidewalk after protecting some in the central market place with barbed wire to prevent them from being hit by vehicles.

Revolt Reported Against Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major rebellion was reported in the giant Teamsters Union today against the plan of twice-convicted President James R. Hoffa to name a caretaker successor in case he goes to prison.

Harold Gibbons, Hoffa's executive assistant until they broke in a bitter personal quarrel in 1963, will lead the fight against Hoffa's choice of Frank Fitzsimmons to take over if Hoffa loses his Supreme Court appeal, said a well-informed union source.

"Gibbons is going to run against Fitzsimmons," this source said. He added that apparently not even Hoffa knew of the decision.

Gibbons reportedly reached his decision after a series of secret meetings with top Teamsters officials across the country. "It means plenty of fireworks for sure" at the union's July 4 convention in Miami Beach, Fla., the source said. "Hoffa won't like it."

Hoffa, 53, although facing 13 years in prison for jury tampering and mail fraud, is considered a cinch for election to a third 5-year term.

But a major fight is certain if Gibbons goes through with his plan to oppose Hoffa's choice of his old Detroit friend, Fitzsimmons, to be his stand in. Hoffa got his start in the union in Detroit.

Hoffa had expected no opposition to Fitzsimmons, sources said.

Gibbons, whose base of power is in St. Louis, Mo., has widespread support from Teamsters officials around the country, one source said.

The development renewed high-level anti-Hoffa rumblings within the union that followed Hoffa's two 1964 convictions in Chattanooga, Tenn., and Chicago.

NATO Foreign Ministers Discuss France Problem

BRUSSELS (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization open their annual spring meeting today to discuss measures made necessary by France's withdrawal from the alliance's military command.

The ministers also were to discuss a Danish plan to seek a European security settlement with the Soviet Union. This was expected to produce still another fundamental disagreement with France.

Following an all-day preliminary meeting Monday, the 14 non-French members of NATO had these decisions ready for French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville:

1. Belgium agreed to provide a home for the NATO military command, Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe — SHAPE. President Charles de Gaulle has told it to leave Paris by next April 1.

2. The 14 ministers agreed to meet again in October to decide whether to move the NATO Council, the alliance's permanent political body, from Paris. Prodded by the United States and Britain, the 14 reportedly recognized the importance of keeping the political group close to shape for efficiency and security. But Canada and other smaller powers felt its retention in Paris for the time being might facilitate negotiations with De Gaulle on France's future participation in the alliance.

3. The 14 agreed to combine and streamline several other NATO theater commands, to shift them from Paris to the Low Countries or West Germany, to send NATO's Defense College from Paris to Rome and to close up the American-British-French standing group in Washington which supervised over-all strategy.

4. Another Washington-based body, NATO's Military Committee, will set itself up alongside the NATO Council wherever that may be and will take over from SHAPE certain military planning and administrative functions.

The Danish proposal for new talks with the Soviet Union will come under study when the ministers get down to analyzing trends in Soviet policy and in East-West relations generally.

Danish Foreign Secretary Per Haekkerup feels that NATO as a group should approach the Soviet bloc's Warsaw alliance for talks on a European security system and a political settlement for divided Germany.

Birth Control Suggestions Due

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that the Roman Catholic Commission on Birth Control would turn its recommendations over to Pope Paul VI after June 26.

There was no indication when the Pope would issue his long-awaited pronouncement that will either modify or continue the Church's ban against artificial methods of contraception.

The announcement gave no clue to whether the commission would recommend a change in the Church's stand on contraception.

Hurricane Alma Heading For Cuba; 73 Die

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Alma, which struck a deadly blow at a Honduran town, headed slowly toward western Cuba today with 90 mile an hour winds and torrential rains.

The Honduran Weather Service reported 73 persons died in a sea of mud in the town of San Rafael, in western Honduras.

At 6 a.m. EDT, the hurricane was centered about 275 miles south southwest of Havana, Cuba, and about 500 miles south southwest of Miami.

The storm was moving northward at five miles an hour the expected rate for the next 24 hours, according to the Miami Weather Bureau's hurricane center.

The Cuban Weather Bureau declared a state of emergency Monday night in the four western provinces of Pinar del Rio, Havana, Matanzas and Las Villas. The Isle of Pines, south of Cuba, was expected to be hit by the storm.

"Hurricane Alma still poses a threat of extreme southern Florida," said forecaster Raymond Kraft of the Miami Weather Bureau. "However, due to the slow movement, the threat is not immediate but will be around for a few days."

A message from the Honduran Weather Service at Tegucigalpa, received by the Miami Weather Bureau, said 30 inches of rain Sunday night virtually wiped out the town of San Rafael, in western Honduras.

"Rivers reported swollen producing mud with depths up to one meter (more than 3 feet)," the message said "Seventy-three people reported dead. San Rafael has practically disappeared."

Gemini Spacemen Face Tedious Debriefing

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The triumphant Gemini 9 astronauts, eager to talk, tackle today the tedious job of recalling for experts the disappointments and successes of a historic three days in space.

Officials want to know every detail, and space twins Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan plan to take 11 days to cover them. All points to the fact Gemini 9 — troubled as it was — added to the log of experience needed for man's journey to the moon.

"It was a disappointment in spots," Cernan told friends. "But we did get some real good information, a great deal of experience."

The 32-year-old father of one returned from space the world's champion space walker, and with a direct one-grade promotion by the President to Navy commander.

During 72 hours, 21 minutes in space, Stafford and Cernan rolled up a stream of victories that included:

—Cernan's 2 hour and 5 minute cosmic stroll, the longest ever, although 30 minutes shorter than originally planned. His face plate fogged and froze, and he had to ditch a plan to use a super, rocket-propelled back pack to shoot through the heavens.

—Three rendezvous chases after a target satellite, all of which figured strongly in future man-in-space programs, including the one that will someday return men from the moon.

—Their landing demonstrated that two astronauts could steer a spacecraft to a pinpoint landing. In fact, Gemini 9 came so close that many aboard the carrier heard the spacecraft's sonic boom as it broke the sound barrier.

A major setback, though, was the fact Gemini 9 did not get a chance to link to its chase target, shot into space two days ahead of the two astronauts. A shroud failed to eject and expose a docking cone, making it look, in Stafford's words, like "an angry alligator."

Flyers Strike Hits Air France

PARIS (AP) — A strike by flying personnel almost paralyzed Air France today.

Foreign planes and crews were chartered for flights. All Air France flights from Orly Airport were canceled.

Out of a normal 75 daily arrivals, only 27 flights were expected today. The crews want higher salaries and better working conditions

Sneezer, 17, Gains Ground

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — June Clark appears to be gaining ground in her months-old battle against sneezing.

The 17-year-old girl, who had been sneezing as often as once every five seconds, now sneezes only every 8 to 10 minutes, her father said Monday.

June has improved since she awoke from a chemically induced sleep. She had been put to sleep at a hospital in hopes the treatment would alter the reflexes believed to have caused the sneezing since early January.

Views On Public Education Given By Candidates

The two candidates for the Escanaba Area Public Schools Board of Education were largely in agreement on the objectives of public education in the views they expressed at a public meeting of the League of Women Voters in the Chamber of Commerce building Monday night.

They are Carlton R. Olsen, now completing his first four-year term on the Board, and Marvin Marshall, U. S. Forest Service employe. Olsen is employed by Olsen & Flath, building contractors.

The candidates were also in agreement that the "most urgent needs of our public schools" is the satisfactory conclusion of a wage and working agreement with the teachers.

Mrs. Earl Owen, the League's voter service chairman, conducted the session at which Mrs. Walter Kulik was timekeeper and Mrs. Robert Schmeling was in charge of refreshments. Mrs. N. L. Lindquist is league president.

The election will be held on Monday, July 13. The Area Public School district includes Escanaba city and the townships of Cornell, Ford River and Wells.

Three questions were posed by the League for answer by the candidates. These questions and excerpts of the answers are:

Question:

What is your philosophy of public education?

Carlton Olsen replied that he believes "every child is entitled to an equal educational opportunity regardless of race, creed, or economic status."

"The state has provided that all children will have this equal opportunity available to them through public sponsored schools," he pointed out.

"A local school board district is obligated by law to provide public sponsored schools for the education of the children from early childhood through high school. My job as a school board member is to uphold the law."

Marvin Marshall said:

"All men have a right to an education. This is their right as an individual."

"A true education aims at the formation of a human person, the whole man, in the pursuit of his ultimate end. This education must prepare the individual for the democratic society of which he is a member and in which as an adult he will share the obligations."

"The public schools must cooperate with all agencies of the community which are interested in the development of the individual. This not only supplements the school program but it offers an example of society and democracy in action."

Question: What is your attitude toward the Community school and in what proportion do you think it should be financed by the City and the Schools?

Marshall said in part:

"The proportion financed by the city and the schools should be determined for each individual project within the community school concept and not determined for the overall concept."

He said his support of the community school proposal was based on the belief in the right of the individual to an education and that "the schools should cooperate if the city is conducting programs or is constructing facilities which will serve this right to an education."

Recreation programs have their place in the community school concept, he said.

Olsen traced the development of the community school concept in Flint, where it originated, and that it is heavily subsidized there by private funds.

The Escanaba Area School Board has met severeal times with the Escanaba City Council and "we found that we are doing almost as much as the community school program does, without the school system taking over completely."

"As for the financing of a program of this type, unless I could see a large surplus of dollars in the school budget, I am vigorously against spending educational dollars, meant for the children, for a community school and recreation program."

Question: In your opinion, what are the most urgent needs of our public schools?

Olsen said "the most urgent thing in our schools is the signing of the teacher contracts."

"Next is the completion of the new building program so all the children will be in school in their own neighborhoods."

"Third, I would like to see a marked improvement in curriculum at all levels, primary and secondary, as the budget will allow."

Marshall said "the most urgent one is an agreement with the teachers on their conditions of employment."

"The annexation of the Bark River Schools is being considered. The decision will be made by the voters."

"We must do our best to educate those who come to our district if the voters favor annexation."

"Let us continue and expand our participation in the federal program" that provides funds for certain programs designed to aid the children of underprivileged families.

Flat Rock Asks School Millage

The voters of the Flat Rock School District will go to the polls on Monday, June 13, not only to elect a member to its Board of Education but also to determine whether to levy 3.3 mills for one year.

Robert Jensen, who has served two terms on the Board, is not a candidate. He is now president of the Board.

The three candidates for the one three-year term are:

Harold Chenier, Mrs. Ellen Jensen and Walter Solis.

The need to levy the special school millage has been outlined to the voters of the district by Leo Brunelle, superintendent of schools. In a statement on the anticipated State Aid formula for the 1966-67 school year he said:

"The present State Aid Act provides that a school district must levy 8 mills locally to participate. This is a minimum requirement. In order to fully participate in the 1966-1967 Act a school district must levy 10 mills locally.

"What implication does this have for the Flat Rock School District?

"For the school year of 1966-1967, the Allocation Board, after reviewing the Township and School Budgets came up with following arrangement: Escanaba Township one mill and the School District 6.7 mills.

"This arrangement, although fair in the light of the budgetary needs of the township and school, presents the following problem for the school district: in order to fully qualify for State Aid, we must levy 3.3 mills to meet the State requirements of 10 mills locally," Brunelle said.

"The proposition for 1 year only. If we are not successful, our school district stands to lose 3/10 of our State Aid, or about $45,000. This loss would create a very serious problem for the Board of Education and the children of our district," he said.

Engineers To Vote Sunday

Members of Operating Engineers Local 324 will hold ratification vote here Sunday on a contract affecting all of Michigan's approximately 500 bulldozer and shovel operators engaged in laying natural gas pipelines.

Statewide Local 324, which struck Upper Peninsula pipeline construction projects May 23, reached agreement with the Michigan Gas Distribution Contractors Association on an 11-month contract over the weekend.

Union members returned to work Monday on feeder line construction projects in the Munising, Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee and L'Anse areas.

Union officials said the dispute concerned varying wage rates paid operating engineers by the contractors' group.

Louis Blok, Local 324 business manager, said the new pact called for a uniform statewide hourly wage of $4.65 for operators of large equipment such as drag lines and cranes, and $4.43 for operators of medium equipment such as trenchers, end loaders and bulldozers.

In addition, the pact calls for an insurance and pension package worth 35 cents an hour, Blok said.

Trustees

The Historical Society of Michigan will meet in Lansing Sept. 24 to elect 5 board members to succeed expiring trustees Roscoe Bonisteel, Ann Arbor; Charles Follo, Escanaba; Dominic Paris, Detroit, Mrs. Win Schuler, Marshall and Williard Wichers, Holland.

Library Closed On Saturdays

Escanaba Library is now operating on its summer schedule.

The library is open Mondays from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Friday from 9 to 6. It is closed on Saturdays and Sundays.

Ike, Truman Join Forces

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Former Presidents Harry S. Truman, 82, and Dwight D. Eisenhower, 75, made a joint appearance Monday at a luncheon supporting the United Nations.

Both men appeared weary after the nearly two-hour luncheon sponsored by UN We Believe, a group that seeks support for the international body. They confined their remarks to a few words.

"If it (world peace) goes through, you and I can feel good about it and retire," said Truman, looking at Eisenhower.

"I'm an enthusiastic supporter of the United Nations," Eisenhower said.

Hospital Keys For Elderly

Medicare Starts July 1

By JEAN WORTH

Medicare starts July 1.

It is the greatest socialized medical service for the public in the history of the nation.

It won't be for everyone — only the oldsters — over 65 — who are covered by Social Security, of which it is the newest part.

A person need only be 65 to get it, ,those under Social Security are automatically enrolled: those not under Social Security can sign for it — free.

It won't pay for everything but it will cover the maior costs of health care in two different programs:

1. Hospital insurance to pay hospital service bills.

2. Medical insurance to pay doctor bills, and for other medical services and supplies and for home health services.

Medicare Services

1. Medicare hospital insurance is paid for by deductions from your pay check for Social Security and by matching contributions from your employer.

2. Medicare insurance isn't automatic, like hospital insurance, for persons covered by Social Cecurity. You must sign for it and pay $3 a month. The Federal Government also puts in $3 a month for you.

1. Hospital insurance pays for all covered services for the first 60 days of your hospital stay, and all but $10 a day for the next 30 days. You must pay the first $40 of your hospital bill for each "spell of illness" (which means each period in which you draw benefits from the start of benefits until 60 days after you have not been a patient in a hospital or extended care facility.) This insurance provides 100 days of extended care benefits.

2. Medical insurance pays 80 tests, electrocardiograms.

It does not cover: doctors services, private room, private duty nurses, personal comfort items like TV, telephone, etc.

It has benefits for four kinds of patients: hospital inpatients,, extended care patients, home health services patients and hospital outpatients.

No Eye Glasses

2. Medical insurance will pay for medical and surgical services by a physician, wherever furnished, services in connection with treatment such as diagnostic tests, medical supplies, drugs which can't be self-administered, and dental surgery like as an operation on the jobs.

It will not cover routine physical checkups, eye examinations for prescribing or fitting eyeglasses, hearing examinations for hearing aids, routine dental care, immunizations, services of chiropractors, chiropodists, optometrists or faith healers.

Head Starting

The War on Poverty's Head Start project to provide pre-school training for children from disadvantaged families has struck one of the happiest chords of the whole economic opportunity effort.

Inevitably, it has been called a summer boondoggle by some critics, but it has pointed an impressive finger at two things:

1. The early years of life are very important in human development.

2. Children in some families get a poor start on their education because they aren't provided at home with the means of keeping up with the class in school.

School systems used to try for superior teachers in high school to finish off students in good condition. Without neglecting that area, they now know that they should have good minds in the elementary faculties.

Theodore O. Yntema, retired Ford Motor Co. executive and ex-member of the University of Chicago faculty, said in a Fairless memorial lecture "We are beginning to wake up to the great educational importance of the early years of life.

"Factual evidence shows that our level of intelligence and our abilities are in major part determined before we get to school. We start school late in life—that is, in the life of learning!

"Data suggest that in terms of intelligence measured at age 17, about 50 per cent of the development takes place between conception and age 4, about 30 per cent between ages 4 and 8, and about 20 per cent between ages 8 and 17. These and other related facts have a profound bearing on the problem of the underprivileged. Those who spend their early years in a severely deprived environment are at a grievous disadvantage throughout life.

"Professor Benjamin Bloom of the University of Chicago says a conservative estimate of the effect of extreme environments on intelligence is about 20 IQ points. This could mean the difference between a life in an institution for the feebleminded or a productive life in society.

"It could mean the difference between a professional career and an occupation which is at the semi-skilled or unskilled level. A society which places great emphasis on verbal learning and rational problem solving and which greatly needs highly skilled and well-trained individuals to carry on political-social-economic functions in an increasingly complex world cannot ignore the enormous consequences of deprivation as it affects the devolopment of general intelligence."

Exemplary Life

James T. Jones of Gladstone was one of the rare persons who had the distinction of having a school named for them in their lifetime. Our fellow Escanaban, John A. Lemmer has been similarly honored.

The passing of Jim Jones is a reminder of his great devotion to the Upper Peninsula community and of his great labors for it. He was mayor of Gladstone and served on the board of education and most other public bodies there and always with distinction.

After a successful career in industry he became, in retirement, a seemingly even more active citizen, with a particular interest in the Boy Scouts. Symbolically, he was at a Scout dinner when final illness struck him.

Such people are precious and the good they do lives after them in an example to others of the deep and enduring satisfaction that comes from helping people.

The Doctor Says:

Careful Control Is Important

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q—When cobalt treatments are given do the cobalt rays destroy only the tumor cells or do they also destroy healthy cells in the area?

A—Although the healthy cells are more resistant to irradiation than most tumor cells, healthy cells are also damaged by rays of cobalt-60. That is why the placement of the needles and the duration of the treatment must be carefully controlled.

Q—What is lymphosarcoma? Is it related to leukemia?

A—This is a type of cancer that may be found in different parts of the body. Another name for it is Hodgkin's disease. It resembles leukemia in that it involves the lymph nodes and is sometimes characterized by a high white blood cell count.

Q—What are the symptoms of bone cancer? Can you have this without having cancer in any other part of the body?

A—The symptoms vary. There may be pain in the bone and a hard swelling or the bone may become eroded and break with a minimum of trauma. Some cancers start in a bone and spread to other parts later but many bone cancers are an offshoot from an initial cancer in some distant part.

Q—My father died of a sarcoma that affected the bones in his legs. What is the cause of this disease. Is it hereditary?

A—The cause of osteorsarcoma is unknown. This is a very malignant type of cancer but it is not hereditary.

Q—About a year ago I had a complete hysterectomy. Although microscopic examination of the removed uterus showed the presence of cancer the doctor believes he got it all but he wants me to have a checkup every three months. How can a Pap smear show whether the cancer has spread elsewhere in my body?

A—The Pap smear will not show cancer in other parts but should be done to determine whether there is any malignant change in the operative scar. If such a change is found, prompt removal or cobalt needles would give you the best chance for a cure. Your checkup should include a physical examination as well as a Pap smear.

Q—Can a girl who has graduated from high school with average grades be classified as an idiot? Her stepfather insists that she is.

A—Using the term "idiot" loosely is a popular indoor sport but not one to be taken seriously. A true idiot has an IQ of 20 or less and is not able to dress, feed or bathe herself. If you called a true idiot by that name she couldn't care less.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

A—Since 1900, five states—Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Alaska and Hawaii.

START-UP OF THE first paper machine ever to include computer process controls in its original design has been achieved in Kingsport, Tenn. by Mead Corp. The machine, among the largest and fastest in its class, produces in excess of 200 tons daily of uncoated papers for business and printing use.

New High Speed Paper Machine

Mead Expands At Kingsport, Tenn.

KINGSPORT, Tenn. — Mead Corp. has boosted its writing and printing paper capacity by 15 per cent with the start-up of a new, high-speed paper machine at its mill here.

Planned for speeds in excess of 2,000-feet-per-minute, the new paper machine is the first in the world to have computer controls included its its original design according to George H. Pringle, Mead president.

Computer systems similar to that on the Kingsport machine have been successfully pioneered by Mead on two existing paper machines in Chillicothe, O., in the past year. The main benefits have proven to be uniformity of quality and production efficiency, vital factors in the Kingsport machine which is among the largest and fastest white paper machines in the industry.

"Production from the new Kingsport machine (estimated in excess of 70,000 tons per year) will help us catch up on the demand for a great many grades of paper," Pringle stated. "We can run large orders of uncoated grades on the new machine more efficiently and thereby make machine time available for other grades at the corporation's five other white paper mills."

Mead, a major producer of printing and fine papers, reports all of its mcahines running at capacity with order backlogs full.

Start-up of the 200-ton-per-day machine and its supporting equipment was completed in just over a week, according to Vincent K. Shannon, Kingsport division manager.

The project, which includes stock preparation systems and highly mechanized facilities for finishing paper in either rolls or sheets, was begun in January, 1965. Rust Engineering Co. was the prime contractor for its construction.

Much of the credit for the unusually smooth start-up goes to a unique program of operator training, Shannon commented. Crews for the new machine spent three months in class sessions and on-site training. During one week of the program, the mill hands and their supervisors were flown by company plane to Mead's mills and research laboratories in Chillicothe.

At Mead's research center the men simulated operation of the Kingsport machine on an analogue computer. The computer enabled the crews to make "theoretical" paper and familiarize themselves with the paper machine's highly sophisticated controls weeks before the machine itself was running.

At start-up most of the pulp consumed by the new paper machine will be produced at Mead's present facilities in Kingsport and its Brunswick (Ga.) Pulp & Paper Co. affiliate. By fall, however, Mead expects to begin using bleached kraft pulp from Northwood Pulp Ltd. in British Columbia. The $50 million Northwood mill, owned jointly by Mead and Noranda Mines, Ltd., is scheduled to go into production this summer.

"The Gabourie brothers, Dick and Bob, aged 14 and 15 and their pal Tom Trudell, caught a large pine snake while picnicking near Fuller Park. It was too good a catch to throw away, the boys thought, so they brought the "critter" into town and proudly displayed it for the Press photographer before turning it loose. Pine snakes are harmless, or so the boys say, at any rate."

Making Giant Strides

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A white liberal who recently sat in on a private meeting of a dozen or so Negro leaders in Michigan says some told him Republican Gov. George Romney might capture up to 40 per cent of the Negro vote in a re-election bid this November.

Seasoned politicians regard that figure as high and outside, but at least one top Republican thinks Romney could get 30 per cent of Michigan's Negro voters.

His steady rise in Negro favor is one of the more remarkable stories of recent times. After corraling well below 10 per cent of the Negro vote in 1962, the governor collected almost 20 per cent on his second outing in 1964.

This reported was present in Detroit the first time Romney spoke to a major Negro audience in 1962. As he ticked off his quite genuine civil rights credentials, including acknowledged crucial leadership in a fight to improve Detroit's schools, Negroes hooted at him derisively.

That sort of response is seldom heard today. He is widely accepted as the Negro's friend.

Another GOP governor who can reasonably expect to register a substantial Negro vote for himself is Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio, who seeks a second term.

Rhodes, who insists on keeping his political endeavors to a narrow state focus, has received little national attention for the fact that he has sprinkled his administration with Negro appointments and has made Negroes increasingly visible in Ohio's Republican party structure.

In Cuyahoga County, embracing Cleveland, where Negroes are heavily concentrated, Rhodes got 54.5 per cent of the total vote in 1962. He could do even better this time if his share of the Negro vote rises as many leaders anticipate.

There is a certain irony in Rhodes' advancing status with the Negro community, since he was busy telling Republicans at the 1964 GOP national convention in San Francisco that a huge white backlash was developing—to the likely benefit of Barry Goldwater. The backlash turned out to be vastly overrated.

The mounting Negro vote prospects for Rhodes and Romney are simply fresh evidence that the Democrats do not have this vote tied down. As is now well-established, the Negroes in the big-city states are restless. They are clearly ready to move to Republican candidates who show convincing signs of interest in their cause.

The 1965 elections offered the first dramatic turnabout. Mayor John Lindsay of New York took 40 per cent of the Negro vote. Mayor Kenneth Schmeid in Louisville got 55 per cent. Arlen Spectar, winning as district attorney in Philadelphia, gained nearly 30 per cent.

What these Republicans did was no freakish accident. The emotional fire which now invests civil rights issues has frayed the economic bonds which have linked Negroes to the Democratic party since 1936.

Indeed, it is fair to say that countless Negroes today see their economic outlook bound up not with government benefits but with a widening horizon for jobs, schooling and housing.

To the extent Democratic state and local governments appear to hold down that horizon, Negroes are ripe for Republican overtures.

The gains evidently in store for Romney and Rhodes contain an unmistakable lesson for others. It is not lost on such an important GOP prospect as U. S. Senate candidate Charles Percy of Illinois, who got just 11 per cent of the Negro total as 1964 governorship nominee but thinks he can do much better.

The Republicans' opportunity is golden. But they badly need many more prime candidates with convincing appeal to a Negro community adrift from its old Democratic anchor.

Michigan Mirror

By ELMER E. WHITE

Michigan's state-sponsored scholarship program is progressing much the way it was anticipated in 1964.

It started at $500,000 that year and higher education officials hoped to boost the legislative appropriation to $1 million the following year. This year $1.6 million in scholarships were awarded under the competitive program.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley said nearly 10,000 scholarships have been awarded since the start of the program. Some 4,221 of these were awarded this Spring for Fall college enrollment.

Students are selected for the financial assistance under the program primarily on the basis of need. Amounts of the scholarships vary, from $80 to $800, depending on the individual need and costs at the school the applicant plans to attend.

Demonstration of college ability is also required.

Polley's office said this year's scholarships went to students planning to attend 82 different institutions in Michigan, including both public and private colleges and universities and some community colleges.

Ann Landers

It's Getting Tougher To Dodge Your Taxes

Dear Ann Landers: I have worked as a caddy, bus boy, waiter and bartender in my day. I have always been on the side of the poor slob who has had to take guff from the loudmouth and the cheapskate. Those days are behind me, happily, and now I am seeing the other side.

I am self-employed and must do considerable entertaining in expensive restaurants. To keep things straight with Uncle Sugar I use credit cards almost exclusively. If the Internal Revenue boys want to take a second or third look at my expenses, it's all right there—neatly recorded. I also add the tip to the tab, rather than laying out cold, hard cash. Incidentally, I'm considered a liberal tipper—usually 20% of the bill.

You ought to see the dirty looks I get from the waiters and the waitresses when I add the tip, in writing. They hate it.

Why? Because then THEY have to report it as income. If a customer lays the cash down by the plate, or presses it into their little hot hands, they can forget they ever got it, so far as the tax man is concerned. In other words, they resent the loss of an opportunity to steal. I'd like your comments on this.—THE BAZZ

Dear Bazz: The chiseler will always be with us. But it's getting tougher all the time to pull tax shonnikers.

How dumb do you think the I. R. S. boys are? They check the fancy places regularly and they have a fairly good idea of what a waiter or waitress should average in the way of tips. If the waiter is too far out of line when he files he gets questioned and has to come up with what Uncle Sugar thinks he ought to pay.

I'm not saying nobody gets away with ANYTHING, but more people are getting away with less all the time—and it's about time.

Dear Ann Landers: We have been married 26 years and my husband has never given me any reason to distrust him. About three weeks ago I found orange lipstick on his handkerchief. (I do not wear that shade.) It baffled me, but I put it out of my mind after a few minutes.

This morning I noticed lipstick (orange again) on his white shirt—just below the collar. He is at home for dinner every evening promptly at six o'clock. He never goes anywhere without me. So when does he find time for the orange lipstick? Lunch hour? On his way to work? On his way home? I cannot figure it out.

I've said nothing to him and don't know if I should. Right now I feel insecure and confused. Please advise me in your column. I read it faithfully and I have confidence in you. — ASHAMED TO SIGN INITIALS

Dear Ashamed: By all means speak to your husband. It would be unfair not to. His record is too good.

Perhaps someone gave him an innocent kiss on the cheek and he wiped it off with his handkerchief. The shirt imprint could have occurred when a gal bumped into him in an elevator.

Most cheating husbands are too clever to bring lipsticked hankies home. My guess is that he is all yours.

Hans van Heiningen

New Manager Of Cooperative

Bay de Noc Cooperative has Hans van Heiningen as its new manager, effective June 1.

Eugene Graves, former manager, resigned and moved to Antigo, Wis., where he will be engaged in selling barn cleaning equipment.

Van Heiningen has been trained in Black River Falls, Wis., under the Midland Management Training program, which is designed to train and develop skilled managers who will be able to keep in step with the business growth of Midland Cooperatives. The program includes courses in accounting, credit, management and business law.

Bay de Noc Cooperative is van Heiningens first management assignment. He is a native of Holland (Europe), is married and has three children, ages 1, 2, and 3.

Van Heiningen said the cooperative will continue to offer quality merchandise and services at reasonable prices. The outlook is good and sales are expected to double before 1970, he reported.

Tooman Joins College Faculty

Charles L. Tooman has accepted appointment to teach literature and English at Bay de Noc Community College, it is announced by Richard L. Rinehart, College president.

He and his wife, Nancy, and their two children, Stephen 4 and Jody 2, have arrived in Escanaba. They have not yet obtained permanent residence.

Tooman was a member of Slippery Rock (Pa.) State College before coming to Escanaba. He taught in the English department there. Prior to that he was at Auburn and Wolf Lake, Ind., for a total of six years of teaching experience. He served with the U. S. Army in 1956.

He received his Masters Degree from Ball State University, Muncie, Ind., and his Bachelors degree from Manchester College, Ind. He also attended Indiana University.

Sports and music are among Tooman's interests. In college he was on the varsity track and cross-country teams; and was assistant track coach in his senior year.

Tooman has worked with church and youth groups, including Yi-Y and 4-H, and Mrs. Tooman is interested in Girl Scout work.

The Toomans were married in 1960. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree in home economics from Ball State University and has taught for two years.

Congress Aims For July Rest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress faces a heavy schedule this week, with the promise of a long Fourth of July vacation in the offing.

If everything comes off according to plan, House Democratic Leader Carl Albert told the House last week, "it is 99 per cent certain" there will be a 10-day vacation over the Independence Day period.

Chippewa Demo In Senate Race

Earl Walker, Chippewa County Democrat of Strongs, today announced his candidacy for state senator from the 37th Senatorial District in the August 2 primary. The 14 county district of the Upper Peninsula and Northern Lower Michigan is the largest in the state, extending from Escanaba and Munising in the central Upper Peninsula to Alpena in the Lower Peninsula.

Earl Walker

Walker was a Chippewa County supervisor for 15 years and has served as township clerk, school board member, road commissioner and as a director of the Chippewa-Mackinac Board of Commerce. He is a retired merchant and was associated with the Cloverland Electric Cooperative as a contractor for 12 years.

Walker said that his decision to run is in response to many requests and because of his knowledge of state and county government and his desire to bring his ideas to the law-making bodies.

With an anticipated 60 per cent rise in college enrollment in the immediate future, Walker says that the colleges at Sault Ste. Marie, Alpena, Petoskey and Escanaba must have greater assistance and support than they have received in the past.

Walker lives at Strongs with his wife, Minnie, who was postmaster at Strongs for 30 years until her recent retirement. The Walkers are parents of six children: Chester, U. S. Labor Department representative in Marquette; Robert, an educator in Lansing; Lucetta Wehrheim, housewife in Glenview, Ill.; Mickey, sales manager for a Detroit carpeting firm; Charles, a member of the administrative staff at the Sault Branch of Michigan Tech; and Jeannette, Butson, supervisor of the Strongs postal station.

Walker said that his petitions containing some 3,000 signatures would be delivered by himself to the Secretary of State in Lansing. Filing deadline is June 14.

Thomas Schweigert, Petoskey Republican, is the incumbent senator in the 37th District.

Trial Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bobby Baker income tax evasion trial has been postponed until Jan. 9, 1967 — nearly two months after the November elections.

Credit Slows Home Building

NEW YORK (AP)—That empty lot next door may stay empty a while longer while home builders tussle with tight money, labor shortages and hard-to-get materials.

For the last 10 years the home building industry has grown more slowly than other segments of the economy. The demand for homes from the millions of people born during World War II has not been as great as forecast.

The Census Bureau estimates 1,495,000 new houses will be built this year—9,000 less than last year. Other sources say activity will slip by 50,000 units.

Some builders already refer to this year's market as "slumped." They cite these factors:

—The prospective home buyer has to present a superior credit rating, before his loan application will be considered. The loan, if he gets it, comes at a higher rate of interest.

Carrie Lynn Oslund Faces Surgery

Half A Heart To Be Made Whole

Carrie Lynn Oslund, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oslund Jr. of Groos, will enter fifth grade at the John Lemmer School in September.

Wednesday, she will enter University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor for her second operation in four years to correct a birth defect in her heart. The operation is scheduled Monday, June 13, under the direction of Dr. Herbert E. Sloan, one of the nation's top heart specialists.

"We hope this will be the last time," said Mrs. Oslund.

Carrie Lynn had surgery once before, when she was five years old. University surgeons opened her chest, used a special machine to keep her alive while they worked, and repaired the top half of Carrie's heart.

Next Wednesday they'll go to work on the bottom half.

"The first time the doctors didn't know what they would find when they operated."

Carrie Lynn Oslund

Mrs. Oslund said. "They did just what they could."

Mrs. Oslund, who has five other children at home, said its a "miracle" that Carrie is still alive. Despite the heart defect, Carrie has never had pneumonia, she continued, and that has been one thing in her favor.

Mrs. Oslund will drive to Ann Arbor with Carrie Wednesday morning. Her husband, who is employed as a salesman with Morley-Murphy Co. in Escanaba, will follow this weekend.

Surgeons expect that Carie will probably remain in University Hospital for two to three weeks after the operation.

"She likes to have her friends write to her," said her mother.

When Carrie returns home, she'll have a lengthy recovery period and in three-to-six weeks have to return to the hospital for post-surgical examination.

If all goes well, Carrie Lynn will return to school in the fall just as good as new.

She'll have at least seven people pulling for her, Mr. and Mrs. Oslund and her brothers and sister, Jeff, age 1; Kim, 13; David, 14; Chuckie, 15, and Valerie, 18.

Pledge Curb

Carlisle, Pa. (AP) — National headquarters of fraternities and sororities which have chapters on the campus of Dickinson College have been barred from interfering in the selection of pledges there.

The school's board of trustees adopted a statement that forbids any interference by the national headquarters. A spokesman said the action is aimed at preventing any racial or religious discrimination in pledging.

Beck Reports To Kiwanians

Highlights of a vacation in Hawaii were presented by Arol Beck to the Kiwanis Club Monday noon. Mr. and Mrs. Beck recently returned from a week's stay in Hawaii.

Beck said the advent of jet airliners is one of the chief aids in making the island's tourist attraction so tremendously popular. The trip takes only about 8 or 9 hours by air.

Beck reported that traffic is very heavy, especially in late afternoon in Honolulu, and that there has been talk of a subway system. Building is booming in the area, with resort attractions bidding for every available space.

The homes are expensive and are built without screens because there are no pesty mosquitos and flies to keep out. The climate ranges between 70 in the morning to 80 or 82 in the afternoon through the entire year, Beck said.

William Winkler reported on the ticket sales for the very successful Aunt Jamimi Pancake Days sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Tech Names Nine Deltans On Honor Rolls

HOUGHTON—Two Escanaba area students are among 29 students who achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average for the winter quarter at Michigan Tech. The students are Eugene Leo Rissanen, 1110 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, a sophomore electrical engineering major and Robert J. Pomazal, formerly of Escanaba and now of Milwaukee, a senior mechanical engineering major.

Seven Escanaba area students are among 156 students named to the honors list for the winter quarter. A 3.5 average is necessary.

These seven students are: James E. Granskog, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Granskog of Rapid River, a senior forestry major; Bruce G. Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Douglas of 709 5th Ave. S., a sophomore mathematics major; Koester L. Christensen, son of Mrs. Evelyn Christensen, 1209 Lake Shore Dr., a sophomore mathematics major; Walter E. Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Carlson of 912 S. 17th St., a sophomore mathematics major; Susan J. Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schaefer of 512 N. 21st St., a junior chemistry major; James M. Manninen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waino Manninen of Cornell, a senior metallurgical engineering major.

NEA Purchases World Almanac From Telegram

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The Newspaper Enterprise Association, America's oldest newspaper feature service, today announced acquisition of The World Almanac and Book of Facts, popular reference work for nearly 100 years.

The World Almanac was first published in 1868 by the New York World. Its present circulation is over one million copies. When the Joseph Pulitzer estate sold the World to the Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 1931, The World Almanac passed to the management of the New York World-Telegram, which has continued publication to the present.

The World Almanac was not involved in the merger of the World-Telegram and the Sun with two other New York newspapers. NEA purchased the book and its assets for an amount in seven figures and took over the editorial and production staff headed by Luman Long, editor. Seller was 125 Barclay Street, Inc., successor by change of name to the World-Telegram and the Sun.

Elaine E. Johnson, Jerald O. Mills Wed

Miss Elaine Evelyn Johnson of 1212 N. 19th St., Escanaba became the bride of Jerald Owen Mills of 4117 Brunswick Ave., Flint in a ceremony performed Saturday, May 28 at the Calvary Baptist Church in Escanaba.

The Rev. Donald E. Wolf officiated at the double ring nuptials at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Traditional organ music for the wedding was played by Bonnie Butts and soloist was Vernice Lindquist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of Escanaba and Mr. Mills is the son of Harold Jackson of Iron River.

Silhouette Gown

The bride chose for her wedding, a floor length silhouette gown of chromspun accented with scattered embroidery. The gown was fashioned with long tapered sleeves, a scoop neckline with pearl trim and a chromspun chapel train. A headpiece of butterfly petals and pearls held her bouffant veil of illusion and she carried a cascading bouquet of red sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Maid of honor for her sister was Carol Johnson of St. Paul, Minn. and Sherry Arvey of Escanaba and Jill Jackson of Iron River, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Bell Skirts

They were attired in floor length pink gowns styled with bell shaped skirts and scoop necklines. They carried cascading bouquets of carnations and red sweetheart roses.

Chicago's Knuckleball Row May Never Be Same Again

By The Associated Press

Dennis Higgins finally has crashed the Chicago White Sox' bullpen and Knuckleball Row may never be the same again.

Higgins, a fastball pitcher who won a job this spring on a bullpen crew dominated for the past three years by knuckleballers Eddie Fisher and Hoyt Wilhelm, tossed four perfect innings Monday night, completing a 5-1 victory over California that stretched the Sox' winning streak to five games.

The 29-year-old rookie spent eight seasons in the minors—the last five as a relief specialist—before his impressive showing in spring training and an injury to 42-year-old Wilhelm opened the gates.

When Wilhelm fractured the middle finger on his pitching hand, Higgins was tabbed by Manager Eddie Stanky to fill in alongside Fisher and sinkerballer Bob Locker.

He has made 11 appearances, all in relief, and allowed only five earned runs in 25 innings for a 1.80 ERA while striking out 20.

"Higgins is simply great," Stanky said after the 6-foot-3 right-hander pitched 2 2-3 innings of scoreless relief in the White Sox' season opener. "He can really fire the ball."

He fired the ball against the Angels Monday night after replacing winner Juan Pizarro with one on and nobody out in the sixth.

Higgins got Joe Adcock, the first man he faced, to rap into a double play, then retired the last 10 hitters in order, protecting Pizarro's fifth victory in six decisions and the Sox' ninth triumph in their last 11 games.

In the only other games scheduled, Washington clipped Baltimore 5-3 despite a pair of homers by Frank Robinson and the Philadelphia Phillies downed San Francisco 6-2 behind 20-year-old right-hander Rick Wise.

Lee Elia's first major league homer, Bill Skowron's second of the season and a run-scoring single and sacrifice fly by Floyd Robinson gave Pizarro an early cushion against the slumping Angels. The Chicago southpaw tired, however, in the fifth and Higgins came on to wrap it up.

White Sox pitchers have yielded only two runs during the five-game winning streak and 10 in the last 11 games.

The Senators snapped a four-game losing string as Frank Howard drilled a three-run homer and right-hander Phil Ortega weathered Robinson's two blasts for his fifth victory against two losses, yielding five hits in all.

Ed Brinkman also homered for Washington while Robinson's pair gave him the American League lead with a total of 14.

Wise completed his first game in the majors, scattering eight hits and fanning eight Giants as the Phillies won for the seventh time in their last eight starts. The 20-year-old right-hander was making his second start since being recalled recently from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.

Rich Allen and Tony Taylor backed Wise with homers and Allen also had a run-scoring double and single.

Willie McCovey drove in both runs for the Giants with a double and single.

WARREN SPAHN, 45-year-old former Milwaukee Brave pitching ace, the winningest lefthander in baseball history, returned to the game in the Mexican League with the Mexico City Tigers. In his debut he gave up seven hits and two runs in five innings against the Jalisco Charros, but was not involved in the decision as his team posted a 4-3 victory. (AP Wirephoto)

Waubung Loop Meeting Is Set

A fourth team is being sought and any persons interested in entering a club in the loop is urged to attend the meeting.

A final decision on whether to operate as a league this summer will be made at the Wednesday meeting.

Junior Golf Tourney Set

ONTONAGON—Junior Golfers from all over the Upper Peninsula will be meeting in Ontonagon on July 6 for the Jaycees Annual U. P. Junior Golf Championships. The tournament is one of 10 sectional events being held throughout the state.

Junior golfers interested in competing in the tournament can obtain registration blanks from their local Jaycee Chapter or from the Ontonagon Jaycees.

The tournament will consist of a 27-hole round on Wednesday, July 6, at the Ontonagon Golf Club. Entrants will compete is three age groups — 17 and 16 years old, 15 and 14, and 13 and younger.

Dressen Moves To Hotel Suite

DETROIT (AP) — Drawn and pale under a fading sun tan, Detroit Tigers Manager Charlie Dressen still was quick with the quips Monday as he left a hospital, three weeks after his second heart attack.

"I don't know how long I'll be here," said the 67-year-old Dressen, who moved from the hospital to a suite in Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. "Dr. Keyes (Dr. John Keyes Sr., heart specialist) says we'll play it by ear for a while."

"I've got to walk up and down the hall, three times a day," Dressen said.

"That's about 100 feet one way," said Red Jones, a friend and former American League umpire who brought Dressen from the hospital to the hotel.

"Naw, it's about 90 feet—from here to first base," corrected Dressen, down 10 pounds from his normal weight of 160.

"And they've got me on a salt-free diet because salt holds water," said Dressen. "That means no chili." Dressen holds a reputation as an amateur chef with chili as his specialty.

"A friend in Milwaukee sent me some beautiful cheese but that's out. There's salt in cheese. All I've got to do is rest."

Dressen said he didn't plan to do much reading while recuperating.

"No fiction," he said. "But I read the sports pages. . .maybe that's fiction."

Coach Bob Swift has taken over as acting manager since Dressen's heart attack May 16. He served the same duty in 1965 when Dressen suffered a heart attack during spring training.

Tigers officials say no decision will be made for some time on Dressen's role with the American League club.

Touring Pros Include Champs

DETROIT (AP) — Sam Snead led six former PGA champions into the 36-hole sectional U.S. Open qualifying round at the Country Club of Detroit today.

The Detroit field, bolstered by many of the touring pros playing in the Buick Open later in the week, is the largest in the country.

A total of 64 players were competing for the 24 positions alloted for the Detroit contingent.

Ken Venturi qualified in the sectional at Franklin Hills in 1964 and went on to win the tournament.

Fifty-four players qualified in six sectionals Monday and another six, in addition to the one here, are on tap today.

Other PGA champs in the field with Snead are Jack Burke, Walter Burkemo, Lionel Hebert, Bob Rosburg and Jay Hebert.

Touring pros Jacky Cupit, Mike Souchak, Howie Johnson, Al Besselink, Don Massengale, Gardner Dickinson, Phil Rodgers and Dan Sikes were some of the others entered.

Baseball Draft To Begin Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Reggie Jackson of Arizona State College and schoolboys Steve Chilcott of Lancaster, Calif. and Tom Grieve of Pittsfield, Mass. are reported high on the list of prospects for today's annual free agent draft by professional baseball.

The total of 813 selections made last June is not expected to be equalled in the two-day draft that covers the 20 big league clubs and all their farm club affiliates down through Class A.

Rick Monday's $104,000 bonus may well be topped in the new spending binge although Monday, the No. 1 pick by Kansas City last year, is hitting only .250 in Mobile, Ala.

Tigers Boast Strong All-Star Candidates At Shortstop, First

DETROIT (AP) — Voting for the eight starting berths in the annual All-Star game, to be played in St. Louis July 12, will begin in the next week or so and the Tigers once again have a couple of strong candidates.

Rival managers get to pick their pitching staffs and substitutes but the eight starters are selected by the vote of the players. None of the players, however, can vote for a member on his own team.

Four Tigers appeared in last year's game — shortstop Dick McAuliffe and outfielder Willie Horton as starters, Al Kaline as a pinch-hitter and Bill Freehan as a catching replacement.

McAuliffe, who has stayed around the .300 mark despite a rib injury and brief stays on the bench when he was platooned with Ray Oyler, could repeat as a starter.

He's one of the better hitting shortstops in a young season which has more than taken its toll of them through injuries.

Norm Cash appears to be a shoo-in for the starting berth at first base.

Cash and rookie George Scott of Boston were the only first basemen in the American League hitting .270 or better through the first seven weeks of the season.

A lot can happen between now and the time the final votes are cast, but Scott's average has been slipping lately while Cash went on a hitting streak in late May and has been courting the .300 mark ever since.

Minnesota Manager Sam Mele will have his pick of the pitchers and should pick Denny McLain, by far the best pitcher for the Tigers and one of the best in either league.

Chicago Manager Al Lopez, who managed the American League Stars in 1965, oassed up McLain—who had a 7-3 record at the time—as well as Hank Aguirre (10-4) and Mickey Lolich (9-4).

Lopez explained the move by saying he had to pick pitchers off teams which were not represented either via starting assignments or substitutions.

McLain contends that one reason he wasn't selected was that Lopez and the White Sox in general did not want to admit they made a mistake in not protecting him in favor of Bruce Howard and Dave DeBusschere, allowing the Tigers to claim him in the draft.

The Tigers were scheduled to open a three-game home series against the Boston Red Sox tonight. Tiger Hank Aguirre (1-2) and Boston's Bob Sadowski (1-0) were the probable starters.

Ford Future Is Uncertain

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitey Ford's pitching future is as uncertain today as the New York Yankees' prospects in the American League pennant race.

Ford, whose recurring arm troubles kept him out of action during the Yankees' resurgence last month, was lost to the club for at least two more weeks Monday when he was placed on the 15-day disabled list.

The 37-year-old southpaw, No. 1 man on the New York staff for more than a decade, has a strained, inflamed ligament inside his left elbow and is unable to throw without pain.

He injured his arm in California May 6, one day before Ralph Houk replaced Johnny Keane as manager and the Yankees started a climb from the league cellar. New York has won 17 of 26 games since then, moving into a tie for sixth, four games under the .500 mark.

Ford, however, has pitched only three innings during that stretch, lasting two innings at Kansas City May 13 and only one in his last start May 24 against the Angels in New York.

In Cleveland, where the Yankees opened a three-game series against the league-leading Indians tonight, Houk said Ford has been ordered to rest the ailing arm for at least a week after a conference with Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the club physician.

There is speculation that, should Ford's arm fail to respond after the two-week layoff, he will be of little value to the Yankees for the remainder of the season.

"The doctor doesn't think it is that serious," Houk said. "I'm hoping he's right. But I'll have to figure on going along without Whitey for awhile."

Ford, who underwent surgery in October, 1964, for circulatory blockage in his left shoulder, bounced back last year and compiled a 16-13 record.

His record this season was 0-3 but he had an excellent earned run average of 2.03.

In 15 seasons with the Yankees, he has won 232 games and lost 100, for the top won-lost percentage among active pitchers.

Report Secret Peace Talks Being Held

Sports Writers Figure Peace To Come Soon In War Between Two Pro Football Leagues

By The Associated Press

Despite continued small-arms fire in pro football's hot-and-cold war, editorial observers anticipate an imminent truce — and eventual accord — between the rival American and National leagues.

Reports persist that the AFL is taking retaliatory measures for the signing of Buffalo placekicker Pete Gogolak by the NFL's New York Giants last month, but the nation's sports editors and writers see peace ahead — they are even hinting at a future merger.

Meanwhile, Pete Rozelle and Al Davis, commissioners of the NFL and AFL, respectively, generally have refused comment on the developments concerning the feud or its possible termination.

The New York Times said the rival leagues are holding "secret peace talks" and that there were hopes for "an agreement, probably in the form of a common draft, within a week."

But the Times story, under Frank Litsky's byline, quoted Davis as calling the report "speculation and conjecture. It is very doubtful anything will be done."

"The latest of the pro football feuds which erupted when the New York Giants signed Pete Gogolak . . . will very likely be the last," wrote Oliver E. Kuechle, sports editor of the Milwaukee Journal, Monday.

"Peace is inevitable," Kuechle concluded, "not as a unilateral benefit to either of the leagues but as a mutual benefit."

"Most pro football fans want the. . . war to end before the game as a whole is seriously damaged," Chet Nelson, sports editor of the Rocky Mountain News, reported. "Players jumping back and fourth and making outrageous demands eventually would bring a deterioration.

"Peace, negotiated or otherwise, would be wonderful."

Joe McGuff, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, said the American League has gone on the offensive against the more established NFL for the first time but discounted reports that the signing of Gogolak by the Giants marked the beginning of a mass player raid against the AFL.

"Obviously, this is not the case," McGuff wrote. "The Giants apparently acted on their own and against the wishes of a majority of the other owners. It is significant that the (Chicago) Bears have made no effort to sign Ernie Ladd and the (Detroit) Lions have not moved to sign Earl Faison.

"It now appears that the AFL will try to sign enough NFL players to make the rival league pay for taking Gogolak, but the AFL probably will not go so far as to precipitate an all-out war."

Ladd and Faison, two of the AFL's top defensive linemen, played out their options with San Diego last season — as did Gogolak with Buffalo — and are legally free to sign with a club in the other league. The Bears and Lions own NFL rights to the pair.

Executive Sports Editor George Puscas of the Detroit Free Press said the NFL is ready to concede a championship playoff game with the AFL and Lloyd Larson, sports editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel, wrote that a merger between the leagues may soon be announced.

Puscas said an AFL-NFL playoff "was coming sooner or later, anyway." The NFL, he continued, "is even willing now to test the strength of anti-trust laws by joining the AFL in a common draft."

He quoted an unidentified NFL owner as saying, "Rozelle will get this settled properly, or we're all in trouble . . . He'll get it done or he's through."

Larson, quoting other unidentified sources, said a common draft will not serve as a starting point in a peace move because of possible legal complications.

"Rather, it will be only part — a logical part — of a much bigger and more sensational merger deal," he wrote.

MANISTIQUE

H.S. Graduation Starts; Honor Students Feted

Honor students of Manistique High School were guests of the Rotary Club Monday noon.

The class of 128 is headed scholastically by Pierre LaFoille, who has received an appointment to the Air Force Academy and Rosann Fleck, who has a University of Michigan scholarship.

At the conclusion of the program, Supt. E. E. Wuehle spoke briefly.

Graduation week activities for the class began Sunday with baccalaureate services, for which Rev. Harry Davidson gave the sermon, urging students not to compromise ideals and to hold fast to convictions and the American heritage. Just as Christ rose from the dead, dare to swim upstream, not float down with the garbage and dead fish, he challenged.

There were corrupt men in the nation in other times, he observed, citing carpetbaggers of the post-Civil War period and those of the Harding administration Teapot Dome scandal. Noting that Robert Louis Stevenson had discussed cynicism, wondering if it and the devil were one, he urged the repentance and belief in God of which St. Peter wrote.

Perhaps it is not possible to teach an old dog new tricks, but this is not a case of working with dogs, but of human nature, which can be changed through Christianity, he explained.

Quite frequently couples who have worked for homes and the things they thought important in younger years, come in their thirties and forties, (not having found the happiness they sought) to churches seeking God and not knowing much about Him. Why waste 15 years of your life?, he asked.

Rev. Roy Pitts gave the invocation and Rev. Ingmar Levin, Scripture reading and benediction. The Mixed Chorus of the school sang.

Class night exercises are at 8 p.m. Wednesday and commencement at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Christmas Gets Postmark OK

WASHINGTON — There will finally be a Christmas in Michigan, says Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger.

"After 20 years of effort by Christmas residents and businessmen," Clevenger said, "The Post Office Department has agreed that the community should have a postmark."

A postal station will be established in the tiny town "to provide improved service and community identity," Post Office officials say.

A rural delivery route out of Munising, three miles away, will be retained to serve the 75 Christmas residents, Clevenger said, but basic postal services will be available at the new station, and mail will be postmarked there.

In its 20-year campaign for a postmark, Christmas businessmen have told postal officials that "We cater mostly to the tourist trade and every year we have numerous requests for our tourists to have their mail postmarked from Christmas.

"Many of these people drive miles out of their way just to mail cards, letters and packages from here.'

There's another Christmas in America — in Florida — but Michigan's is closer to the North Pole.

The candidates for the new liberal arts degrees will be: Karen Ann Faucett, Rochester; Marquerita Ruth Ferrer, Kalamazoo; Mary Ann Honkanen, Calumet; Richard Allan Miller, Houghton.

Undergraduate degrees in 19 fields of study from 13 academic departments will be conferred on 428 seniors and 12 post graduate students.

There are 14 coeds in the 1966 graduating class, and 156 of the degree candidates are married.

Pope Pressing For Birth Study

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI is reported pressing his birth control commission for word on whether it recommends any changes in the traditional Roman Catholic stand against contraception. The commission announced April 28 it had reached "an advanced stage of clarification and information," but it cautioned Catholics not to expect a report too soon.

Sources said even after specialists on the commission finish their work, it will take a review panel of 14 prelates some time to prepare the recommendation for the Pope

The meeting was well attended and the following communities were represented: Escanaba, Manistique, Stephenson, Menominee, Cooks, Powers, Seney, Germfask, Bark River, Wilson, Rock, Daggett and Cunard.

How to succeed in business by really trying

Ford sales are at an all-time high. During May Ford outsold all other car makes!

The word is spreading—fast—that Ford Division is building the best cars it has ever built. And it's true. Never have Ford cars been so good—never have Ford sales been so high.

People discovered our 1966 Ford was the strongest Ford ever built. A strong car, well-engineered, is a quiet car—and the '66 Ford has a ride that is quieter even than some of Europe's most expensive hand-built luxury cars.

Over a million people have already bought Mustangs. This rare blend of sports-car excitement and solid value is the most popular new car in history . . . and right now it's the world's best-selling hardtop and convertible.

Wagon buyers are excited about our Magic Doorgate—the greatest step forward in wagon convenience in years. It opens out like a door for people and swings down like a tailgate for cargo. It's standard equipment on all Ford and Fairlane wagons.

Car shoppers discovered a whole new range of comforts and conveniences. The '66 Ford offers power front disc brakes, a Stereo-Sonic Tape System, America's largest V-8 to perform on regular fuel, Silent-Flo Ventilation that keeps air fresh with all windows closed, and a new Safety/Convenience Control Panel that lets you lock all doors with one switch, has lights to warn if fuel's low or a door's ajar, reminds you to fasten seat belts.

A whole new group of sports-minded car buyers has come over to Fairlane. We've redesigned it completely with 30 new models, including GT's, sports-luxury XL's, convertibles, Squire wagons, and an exciting new Sport Shift Cruise-O-Matic Drive (on GT/A models) that gives you the ease of an automatic—or lets you shift manually for the fun of it.

People everywhere are finding out just how much extra value we've built into today's Ford cars—extra value that's the reason why Ford sales have soared to an all-time high.

And that's why Ford Dealers . . . leading from strength . . . are now offering you the best deals ever. There are specially equipped, specially priced Fords, Fairlanes and Mustangs, and special values on all our cars—across the whole line. See them soon.
